

The Offshore Regional Directory Series 2019

North West Europe Offshore Activity to 2027

including the 2019 North West Europe Offshore Oil & Gas Directory

The latest edition of the Offshore Oil & Gas Directory series consists of seven publications, each covering a key region of offshore E&P activity: North America; South & Central America; West Africa; NW Europe; the Mediterranean; the Middle East & Indian Ocean; and the Asia Pacific region.

Each regional commentary includes an outlook for offshore oil and gas production and activity to 2027.

The Clarkson Research series covers the entire global offshore sector, including over 6,000 offshore oil or gas fields in various stages of production or development. Each publication includes a detailed listing of all oil or gas fields and associated structures in the relevant region, as well as market commentary and analysis. The market analysis covers regional trends in offshore exploration, field development and project CAPEX, as well as trends in vessel deployment, utilisation and dayrates driven by offshore field activity.

To see further details and some samples of the latest directories' content visit our online shop at www.crsi.com selecting 'Offshore' and then 'Offshore Oilfield Directories'. Each register can be viewed electronically along with underlying data via a subscription to Offshore Intelligence Network and World Offshore Register.
